The Butterfly Queen is the indie queer fairytale you need in 2024

The Butterfly Queen, a deliciously off-the-wall fantasy film about getting your best friend back, will be streaming on YouTube starting January 12th. Casey (a non-binary cartoonist/sheep farmer) and Robin (a vagabond/Casey's best friend) must steal back a magical sketchbook from The Butterfly Queen's nightmare forest. Unfortunately, in these woods The Queen makes all the rules. This is one farmpunk adventure you won't want to miss. The movie will be available by donation.
